COLD AND FLU SEASON

Both the common cold and influenza are spread by respiratory droplets through sneezing, coughing, or hand contact with another person after touching nose or mouth secretions. Flu season generally runs from November into early March with the peak occurring winter. Get regular physical activity, eat healthy food, and get plenty of sleep to boost your immune system. Avoid stress as it can weaken your immune system. Stay home if you feel ill and cover your nose or mouth when coughing or sneezing. Avoid contact between your hand and your face or eyes. And most important of all, wash your hands frequently with warm water and soap. If you are unable to wash your hands, use an antibacterial gel.

SIMPLE FASHION TIPS FOR EVERY DAY

- Here are a few basic tips to help develop your innate fashion sense:
 - o Wear something comfortable. You won't look good if you can't breathe.
 - o Wear a color you love. Most people feel more confident in their favorite colors.
 - o A pair of earrings and a nice handbag can do wonders for any outfit.
 - o Don't be too matchy. Try wearing contrasting colors for added interest.
